Council Discusses Means for the Regulation and Enforcement of Sanitation Laws.

GOV. MONTAGUE TO-NIGHT

Senatorial Candidate Will Address Voters in Leader Hall. Richmond Firm Fined.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 1102 Hull Street.

The City Council met in regular session last night.

An ordinance was passed allowing Mr. M. J. Johnson to run a spur track to his wood yard.

Dr. E. T. Tucker, representing the Health Committee, brought up several matters relative to the sanitation of the city. Several matters looking toward the betterment of the health outlook were discussed, and in the near future it may be confidently expected that some plan will be adopted.

Dr. Tucker suggested that the city government employ an official, whose sole duty it shall be to make a daily inspection of the streets and alleys, and being invested with the power of a police officer to enforce all sanitation laws. It is now, this power is vested in the police department. Chief Lipscomb is sanitary officer, and with his duties as City Engineer and Chief of Police, the combined work is too arduous for the capacity of any one man. This was brought out by one of the speakers, who said that all well-regulated cities employed an officer to look after the sanitation and, moreover, that they kept complete records of the death rate, diseases prevalent and the disease to which most of the deaths are due. He said that the death rate of Manchester was about twenty per thousand, slightly lower than Richmond, and a good deal more so than some other cities. If the sanitation laws, he said, were well regulated and enforced, this death rate could be greatly decreased, and a consequent general improvement would result to the city.

Not to Employ Officer.

After the matter had been variously discussed, it was decided that the city was not yet in a position to employ an officer for this purpose. Various resolutions were offered and rejected, and it was finally decided to call the attention of the Mayor to the ordinance regarding the employment of such an officer.

The latter, said Mr. Jones, complained of experiencing a great deal of trouble in collecting delinquent taxes, and that people raised a great hubbub when approached by him. Some time ago this official made one of his rounds, and collected the delinquent taxes in his power. Mr. Jones offered a resolution that the collector be requested to appear before the council at its next meeting.

A petition from the Farmers' Water Supply Company, which was incorporated this month, is engaged in canvassing in Swansboro for the right to use the water system to be established there. In considering the question of the easiest grade to the James River at a point below the city's intake of water, the company has been prevented from entering the pen, but nothing could stop her from pleading for his release until Tuesday. Her request could not be complied with, and she went out to hunt a bondsman.

Back to the pen, there to be with negroes who have spent months in jail, with white men of the lowest character, the youth went and with him went his mother. She was prevented from entering the pen, but nothing could stop her from pleading for his release until Tuesday. Her request could not be complied with, and she went out to hunt a bondsman.

The petitioners ask that they be allowed to construct this system according to conditions laid down by the city, favorable to them, to construct it in part on their own property, to place a water and sewerage system, or to construct it at their own expense and ease rights to the two systems, which shall be paid by the city until it shall construct a system of its own. The petition was referred to the Street Committee.

Richmond Firm Fined.

The United Manufacturing Company, of Richmond, was made to appear before the County Court of Chesterfield on Wednesday to answer a charge of delinquency to comply with the laws of the State before getting the necessary licenses.

Constable W. E. Grant is the officer who made out the case, served in all cases. The cases were decided adversely to the company, the court imposing a fine of $100 and costs in each case. Counsel for the defense noted an exception.

AM SURPRISED, SAYS WILLIAMS

Replies to Anderson That He Had Not Misapprehended.

"DEALT ALONE WITH RECORD"

Did Not Know Major's Personal Views—Anderson Not to Reply.

Mr. Samuel W. Williams, of Wythe, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for attorney-general, arrived in the city yesterday and is at Murphy's Hotel. Mr. Williams gave out the following statement in reply to a brief one printed yesterday by Attorney-General William A. Anderson:

"I must express my surprise that Major Anderson should feel called upon to reiterate the statement that I misapprehended, and, therefore, incorrectly stated his position on the school book question."

I reiterate that I have done no such thing. I have dealt alone with Major Anderson's record. In my first card I stated that Major Anderson was on record in favor of the multiple list. In my second card, replying to Major Anderson, I said the record of the State Board of Education show I and Mr. Anderson has not and will not deny, that he was one of the seven members of the board who voted against the adoption of straight single list of books for the whole State.

He was also one of the seven members of the board who voted for the question of (if complete) prevailing in this State. That Mr. Anderson, as a member of the State Board of Education, voted for the present plan of county and city adoption, and against the proposed plan of a straight single list adoption for the whole State."

I repeat this statement, and charge Major Anderson to deny, if he can, and until shown to be incorrect I shall continue to repeat it. The Richmond correspondent of the Washington Post, in reporting Mr. Anderson's interview, states "as a member of the State Board of Education, Major Anderson was one of those who voted for the multiple book list."

I showed that the so-called single list, advocated by Major Anderson in his card, was impracticable, and gave my reasons. Mr. Anderson's interview, which I read this morning, gave me the first information as to his present personal views on the question.

In no way, however, positively that he is in favor of a single list, I congratulate the attorney-general upon his recent and thorough conversion from the error of his way, but, beg to remind him that his repentance comes too late. The mischief was done when he, as a member of the State Board, and the majority voted for the present multiple list and thereby imposed upon the patrons of the public free schools the burden of paying at least one-third or more for their school books than it would have cost them if his conversion to the single list had taken place before he voted for the multiple list."

Attorney-General Anderson when seen yesterday stated that he would not further notice Mr. Williams's comments upon his position.
